

Mannheim, February 14, 2020

Dear Business Partners,

After the outbreak and further spread of the coronavirus, we followed the development closely and followed the recommendations of the responsible authorities and international bodies such as the WHO.

After a comprehensive internal risk assessment, we decided to take further safety measures and to cancel our participation in the international trade fair for intralogistics solutions and process management LogiMAT 2020.

We know that the organizers of the fair are doing everything they can to contain the risks, but we cannot firmly guarantee the health of our customers, visitors and employees. For this reason, after careful consideration, we decided to take this step.

We are currently doing everything we can to ensure the health and safety of our employees and to minimize the impact on our company's business.

We are currently working on very important and sensitive projects and we owe it to our customers to fulfill these projects without any interruptions.

The health and safety of our employees, customers and other interest groups is our top priority. As we are in constant contact with different personal on site during project meetings and site visits, we must fulfill our duty of care as an employer and supplier; and minimize the risk on our employees and customers.

This is not a decision that we made lightly. It is very unfortunate, but we firmly believe that the most responsible decision is to withdraw our participation from this year's event.

I am always available to answer any questions you may have,

Yours Sincerely,

Dieter Born
